

This act must not be eliminated or weakened in any manner - I think that telemarketers would be glad to know who does not want them to call!